MICRO AI FACTORY
PRIVATE AI | YOUR DATA | REAL WORK | BETTER OUTCOMES

WHY PRIVATE?

Your Team is Already Using AI.

The Question is Where Your Clients' Data Goes.

In most small offices, someone has already pasted a client email, a patient note or a tax document into ChatGPT or Copilot to save time. Each prompt sends that information to a provider's servers, under that provider's terms.
Your profession's rules didn't go away when AI arrived, so most firms either keep AI away from the work where it would help most, or accept a risk nobody can fully see. A private Micro AI Factory removes that trade-off.

THE RISK OF DOING IT WRONG

Real Data. Real Consequences.

One careless prompt can lead to a breach, a subpoena or the loss of your clients' trust. Here is what's at stake in your industry.

Mortgage lenders
Borrower SSNs and bank statements in a public AI tool breach the FTC Safeguards Rule. A leak affecting 500 or more people must be reported to the FTC.

Title and escrow
A leaked closing file gives fraudsters everything they need for fake wire instructions.

CPA and tax offices
Sharing client return data without written consent is a federal crime under IRC §7216, and it can cost you your e-file privileges.

Small law firms
Careless AI use can waive privilege or bring a bar complaint, and made-up citations have already gotten lawyers sanctioned.

Medical clinics
Patient data in an AI tool with no business associate agreement is a HIPAA breach, and "we didn't know staff were doing it" won't hold up.

Dental practices
One AI leak of patient and insurance records means breach notices to every patient.

Behavioral health
Leaked therapy or substance-use records can't be taken back and can cost you your license.

Financial advisors
Under the SEC's updated Regulation S-P, unmonitored AI use is a gap examiners will flag, and customers must be notified within 30 days of a breach.

REAL IMPACT

1,000+ Hours a Year Back

A 10-person office that gives each person back two hours a week of reading, writing and searching recovers more than 1,000 hours a year. That is capacity for more clients and faster turnaround, without hiring. We set your targets during scoping and review the results with you.

10 people × 2 hours/week × 52 weeks = 1,040+ hours back every year

Illustration only: 10 people × 2 hours × 52 weeks = 1,040 hours.
Your results depend on your workflows.
